MAN AT FORD
HANGS HIMSELF

Isaac Cole McClanahan Uses Trace

Chain From Plow to Accomplish Rash Deed.—Was in Ill Health.

Isaac Cole McClanahan hanged himself at Ford in this county, and the body was discovered by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Virgil McClanahan, at about 4:30 Friday morning.

McClanahan was about 66 years of age and made his home with his son, Mr. Virgil McClanahan, at Ford. He had been despondent from ill health for a long time.

His son was erecting a small saw mill near Burt & Brabbs' lumber yards, and this place was chosen by the father for his rash act. A trace chain was used as a rope.

Squire Andy Dykes conducted an inquest over the body with the following result:

"February 16, 1912.

"We, the jury, find the body before us to be that of Isaac Cole McClanahan, and that he came to his death by hanging himself near the Kentucky river, in Clark county, just below Ford.

"We, the jury, find from the evidence that the rash act was caused from unsound mind and bad health.

FORMER SALOONKEEPER IS ARRESTED IN SCOTT

Jeff Luke, of Georgetown, is Fined $100 and Cost for Selling Liquor in Local Option Territory.

Georgetown, Ky., Feb. 17.—Jeff Luke, a former saloonkeeper here, was fined $100 and costs in Scott Circuit Court Friday for selling whiskey in local option territory. The case was appealed from the lower court when he was given a fine of $60 and 40 days in jail.

According to the testimony offered, Mr. Luke sold three pints of whiskey to James Humphries, one of which had been bought by Humphries for Frank M. Thomason and was delivered to him in the presence of Sheriff Ed. D. Smith.

Accompanying the Sheriff were Deputy Sheriff Milligan Fleming, Chief of Police James McNally and Night Watchman Charles Morgan, who raided the soft drink establishment of Mr. Luke under the Wellington Hotel, where it is alleged three barrels of Sam Clay whiskey, bottled in bond, were found. These were in pint and half pint bottles. Attorney Llewellyn F. Sinclair represented the defense and City Attorney B. M. Lee the Commonwealth.

GENERAL AINSWORTH IS RELIEVED

Of His Office on His Own Application, And It is Approved by The President.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Adjutant General Fred C. Ainsworth, who was relieved of his office on charges assumed to be those of conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline, Friday, was placed on the retired list on his own application. This precludes the possibility of a court-martial. President Taft approved General Ainsworth's application because of the officer's thirty-seven years of service.

Friends of General Ainsworth in the House of Representatives, who resented the charge that the Adjutant General had been surreptitiously giving information to the Military Affairs Committee, were planning to institute a thorough investigation into the War Department. Chairman Hay of the committee, declared Friday night that, so far as he was concerned, the officer's decision ended the agitation in Congress.

The promoters of the banquet are preparing to make the smoker as big an event as was the dollar dinner given to Governor Woodrow Wilson.

IMPORTANCE OF DRAINAGE

George H. Maxwell Has Taken Charge of Work of Organizing People in Fight for Irrigation.

New Orleans, Feb. 15.—Geo. H. Maxwell, the man who organized the people of the dry west in their successful campaign to secure national irrigation, has taken charge of the work of organizing the people of the wet delta for their fight for drainage. His object is to make The National Drainage Congress, which is to be held in New Orleans April 10-13 a big enough success to attract the attention of the country at large to the cheaper cost of living side to the drainage of the 75,000,000 acres of wet lands in 40 states in so forceful and potential a manner as to bring Congress into close touch with the drainage problems of the United States.

Mr. Maxwell has organized the merchants and business men of New Orleans under 109 chairman; the householders of New Orleans under a special committee; the railroads the hotels; the land men and other branches of civic life, all pledged to put their shoulders to the wheel and turn the machinery of their business to account in a coordinate plan to draw a minimum of 10,000 delegates to the National Drainage Congress, New Orleans April 10-13.

He is also organizing a national movement, with general headquarters in Chicago and division headquarters in New Orleans, Pittsburg and Los Angeles to sustain and carry out the work that will be done by the National Drainage Congress. This organization is to be known as the National Reclamation Association. A minimum membership of 1000 will be secured in the Mississippi Valley, which will report to New Orleans; 1000 in the East, which will report to Pittsburg; 1000 in the West, which will report to Los Angeles.

In this way the Newland's River Regulation bill, which stores the floods at the headwaters of the rivers, supplying water for irrigation where needed and flood prevention in the lower rivers, will be pushed through Congress. Other necessary legislation will be devised and its passage urged upon the Federal Congress and State legislatures, and the full scope of the movement will be placed before the people of the country in its true meaning.

In discussing his plans, Mr. Maxwell said: "Irrigation has proved so highly beneficial, that the people of the United States will look with favor on the big drainage policy that the National Drainage Congress will launch here April 10-13.

"Agricultural lands have become scarce, and 75,000,000 acres of highly fertile wet lands must soon be made available to the plow if the country would avoid further high cost of living troubles.

"The question of flood prevention is fast reaching a stage where levees will no longer answer, and the adoption by Congress of a proper river regulation policy has become a necessity.

"We are going to make the National Drainage Congress so big a success that it will attract the attention of the entire country, and with the entire country behind us we will go to Congress and ask for what we need and what we must have in order to make the 75,000,000 acres of wet lands north, south, east and west produce the food the people must have and the commerce that the country will require to maintain its trade supremacy."

"Irrigation has made immense areas in the West prosperous. Drainage will provide homes for more than 1,000,000 farmer families, increase the food supply of the country and decrease the general cost of living. River regulation will render dry lands as well as wet lands habitable and cultivatable. Democratic votes in the South get irrigation for the people of the West, and the people of the West stand ready and willing to aid the people of the South and of all of the wet land states of the country to secure the assistance of Congress in taking the surplus water off their lands. The manufacturers of the East, in working for the drainage of the wet lands will be doing nothing less than opening up new and prosperous markets for their manufactures.

SCHOBERTH MAKES HIS FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Will Speak at as Many Points as Possible in Race Against Cantrill in Seventh District.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 17.—Representative Harry A. Schoberth, of Woodford county, made his formal announcement Friday for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district.

In his announcement Mr. Schoberth puts it up to the Democrats of the Ashland District to say whether they believe the action of the District Committee in calling the primary for March 16 was fair or whether it was called with a view to insure the nomination to one certain candidate.

Mr. Schoberth will speak at as many possible points in the district as it is possible for him to reach in the short time left until the date of the Cantrill primary.

Mr. Schoberth's Announcement The announcement of Mr. Schoberth, in part, follows:

"I shall make as active and vigorous a campaign as it is possible for me to make in the limited time allowed by the Committee. It is not my purpose to criticize the action of a majority of the Committee in calling the primary so early, and at such an inconvenient time for the voters of the district; for it has always been my custom to submit without complaint to the actions of the constituted authorities of the party. But it is necessary for me to call upon the Democratic voters, who understand the situation, and urge them not to allow the shortness of the time or the inclemency of the season to prevent them from casting their votes in the prime."

For Democrats to Decide

"It is for you to decide, not for me to say, whether the majority of the Committee, in calling the early primary were influenced by consideration of the welfare and best interests of the Democratic party or by their desire to make sure, if possible, the renomination of the present incumbent of the office, by preventing the entry into the race of any other Democrat to oppose him.

There are those who believe, in view of the fact that the General Assembly now in session has been practically sure to pass a general primary law to relieve candidates of the great expense and burden of entrance fees, that it would have been better for this committee to wait the action of the General Assembly which will give ample time to make all nominations for the next November election.

Impresses Duty on Democrats

"I shall speak in as many places, and as often as it may be possible between now and the primary, but I must appeal to those who favor my candidacy to help me the best they can to meet the difficulties of so short a campaign and to impress upon the Democrats, of the district their duty in coming to the polls. I have no fear of the result, if they will do so.

"I cannot believe that any large number of Democrats in the district will permit themselves to be disfranchised by reason of this premature call for the primary, but I do believe that they will brave the severities of the season, if necessary, in their determination to see that justice is done and the welfare to the party served."

ANOTHER BIG SALE OF
POOLED TOBACCO MADE

Broker Theodore Kirk Purchaser of 5,750 Hogsheds at Price Around 17 Cents.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 17.—The Burley Tobacco Society of Kentucky through its officials, at a meeting held here Friday, closed a deal with Theodore Kirk, a broker of Cincinnati and Covington, Kentucky, by which 5,750 hogsheds, or between five and six millions pounds, of the 1909 pooled tobacco was sold at a price said to be around 17 cents.

The tobacco was purchased it is believed for a New York firm. The lot purchased will wipe out the entire holdings of the Burley grades known as D.

Another big deal is pending which will take up more of the Burley 1909 pooled tobacco, of which there is but 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 pounds left.

Mr. Kirk thus far is perhaps the largest single man purchaser of Burley tobacco on record, having taken over something like 18,000,000 pounds from the Burley Society since December 5.

LEXINGTON TO LOOK INTO GAS SITUATION

Committee Appointed to Investigate After Hearing Company's Franchise Can Not be Attacked.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 17.—At a meeting of citizens and members of the Commercial Club Friday night a resolution providing for a thorough investigation into the natural gas situation in Lexington was adopted after Colonel R. A. Thornton had told of the company's profits averaging $100,000 a year for the first three years of its existence and Captain John Tonkin, of Oil City, Pa. had told of the efforts of the company to meet the extra demand upon its lines for gas during the cold weather of the past two months.

Attorneys reported to the meeting that the franchise of the company could not be disturbed but that any excessive charge for gas could be remedied if proven. Nothing was said about any reduction in the bills for January, which ranged in Lexington from 25 to 100 per cent higher than in December. The committee to investigate the situation will be named later.

INSURANCE COMMISSION
BILL UP TO MCCREARY

House Passes it 78 to 6 in Spite Fight on Measure by Interests Affected.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 12.—Notwithstanding the fight made upon Senate Bill 21 by the insurance interests this measure, which provides for a State Insurance Commission to regulate all insurance rates except life insurance in this state, was passed Friday by the House by a vote of 78 to 6.

The passage of this bill was accomplished after one of the hardest fights of the session, as a strong insurance lobby has been here since the bill was introduced to fight it and Friday in the House Representative Meyers, author of the House bill, stated on the floor that an attempt had been made to bribe him to stop using his efforts to have the bill passed.

The bill, having already passed the Senate, will become a law when signed by Governor McCreary. The measure was fathered by the Louisville Board of Trade.

Two Sessions in Each House

The Senate and House each held two sessions Friday, all the time of the Senate being devoted to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 3, which is the bill of Senator Bosworth providing for state aid for good roads. The Senate was in the Committee of the Whole considering this measure and adjourned with about half of the bill completed.

The House passed a number of bills most of them of only local importance.

Both the Senate and House adjourned until Monday.

Keller Captures an Appeal

When the House convened for the afternoon session Mr. Chunn moved that when the House adjourn it adjourn until Monday. Speaker Terrell held that the rule adopted by the House provided that only the orders of the day could be considered in the afternoon sessions, and Hon. John W. Holland appealed from the decision of the chair. Mr. Keller insisted that the House get down to business, and went to the clerk and took the appeal from his hands.

This action caused a good deal of merriment, as it was all done in the best of feeling. W. V. Perry moved that the House Rules be amended so that the House may be able to adjourn to a time certain. This motion was carried after much debate.

Schoolhouse Bill Passed.

The House then began the consideration of House Bill No. 143, introduced by Mr. Scott, providing for the use of school houses during vacation periods by any lawful educational, religious, political, civil or agricultural assembly.

Mr. Kelly offered an amendment providing that school houses must be tanned back swept, cleaned and in good condition as when loaned for the use of assemblies. The amendment was lost. The bill passed 76 to 0.

Tuberculosis Bill is Passed

House Bill 235, the Douglas bill, creating the Kentucky Board of Tuberculosis Commissioners, and appropriating $15,000 annually to be used by that commission to promote the building of a sanatorium, was discussed at some length. Mr. Keller for it and Mr. Chunn against. The bill received 59 votes. Twenty-six voted against its passage.

The House next considered and passed Senate Bill 40, giving the Commissioner of the Court of Appeals a stenographer.

WHAT WILL CLARK COUNTY DO

The article below is copied from the Courier-Journal, and shows that if Bourbon county has never been awake before to the advantages that would come to it if the new line of the L. & N. is built by way of North Middletown, it is certainly awake to the situation now. Several months ago Clark county people were interested to a man in doing everything they could to induce the L. & N. to build its double-track through Winchester and out through Irvine to the coal fields. The people of this county are just as interested now as they were then, but a certain kind of lethargy has taken hold of them, and this article shows very plainly that, if we don't get up and hustle, we will wake up one of these bright mornings and find in the city newspapers the official statement, that we are not on the new line.

The work of securing options through Clark county is progressing, and most of the landowners are helping the plan along by submitting fair propositions for the right-of-way, but some of them are not. The spirit of the North Middletown people and the Bourbon people is shown by this article:

Paris, Ky., Feb. 15.—(Special)—Citizens of North Middletown, this county, and the city have gone to work in earnest to secure the extension of the Louisville & Nashville railroad through the southeastern end of the county and on into the coal fields.

Chief Engineer L. P. Bell, of Staunton, Va., who was sent here by the Louisville & Nashville to assist in securing the right of way between Paris and Hedges Station, in Clark county, feels greatly encouraged.

At a meeting of North Middletown citizens, which was attended by a large number of land owners and others interested in the project, seven of the most prominent farmers along the proposed route signified their intention of donating the right of way through their lands, and agreed to sign the option at once. One land owner in attendance, owner of three farms on the line, donated the right of way, through all three.

A committee composed of J. J.

Redmon, May Goff, Charles C. Clarke, John T. Collins, Thomas J. Judy, James Wade, H. S. Caywood and William Gay was appointed to go over the proposed route. The committee walked over the route from North Middletown to Gorton, in Clark county, a distance of twelve miles.

TELL US HOW WE CAN IMPROVE THE DAILY NEWS

We want to come as near to making The News what the people of Winchester and Clark county want it to be as possible. We have often thought that if we could talk with our subscribers, all of them, frankly and freely we could get out a better newspaper. We would take it as a favor if our readers would tell us how we may improve the paper, in what we are deficient from their view-point, and what we may publish that they do not care to read. We will appreciate any criticism of that character and do our best to carry out any suggestion tending to make The News a more readable paper and more satisfactory to its friends. Send in your suggestions frankly and freely, not necessarily for publication, but in order that we may "see ourselves as others see us," for after all therein lies the true test of a newspaper. We shall take such criticisms as a friendly aid. So come on with them.

THE PRISON COMMISSION BILL.

The News wants to be perfectly fair in its discussion of the actions of the Legislature. In the first place that is the honest course to pursue. In the second place The News is an independent newspaper and not inclined to partisanship. In the third place only the truth in the news or editorial columns will count and the public soon "gets onto" a paper that does not tell the truth.

When that happens such a newspaper soon loses any influence it may have and deservingly so.

We believe that the bill that passed the House at Frankfort providing for a Prison Commission of a partisan character in its personnel is an unwise measure. It is our opinion that it will result in the building up of just such a machine as that which resulted from the administration of the prisons by the present commission. Messrs. Brown, Fogg and McCutcheon are all pleasant gentlemen and what they have done in seeking to perpetuate the power of their commission is just what anybody else would have done under the same circumstances and just what would be done if a partisan Prison Commission was to take their place, even by appointment of the Governor. It will simply be putting a powerful machine in the hands of the Governor rather than in the hands of the Legislature and we, for one, fail to see how the conduct of the prisons will be improved by the change.

The platform on which the Democrats were returned to power in Kentucky at the November election declared in plain terms for a bipartisan Prison Commission and the taking of the prisons out of politics. We hope that such a bill will yet be passed by both houses and that it will be signed by the Governor. No partisan body, however good may be the intentions of its members, can conduct the prisons without the baneful influence of politics creeping into their appointments and this was the chief fault found with the present Board.

Rest in Solitude.

The first requisite in resting is to be alone. Every human being is more or less of an irritator. One must get away from his room or to the woods. As near as possible one must secure solitude and silence; for it is in the heart of what shallow people call loneliness that there is found the fountain of refreshment and a new birth of joy in life.

Flowers in Ceremonies.

When the swarthy Spaniards, captured Mexico, they found in the lake which almost surrounded the capital city many floating gardens, the fragrant temples. In Greece and Rome flowers were made into huge, triumphal arches, and a special feast of flowers, known as the Flora, was established in their honor.

FEEDING COW WHOLE GRAINS

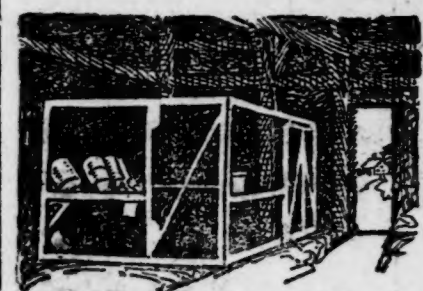

Inadvisability of Ration Has Been Demonstrated by Experiment Stations and Owners.

It is seldom advisable to feed whole grain to dairy cows. This has been demonstrated time and time again, both by experiment stations and individual dairy men and farmers. The animals cannot make as good use of whole grain as of grain that has been ground. The Michigan station has furnished some exact data on the subject that are worth attention. The work was very carefully done and the results reported as follows: When whole corn was fed to cows 22.75 per cent passed through them unmasticated; when fed to heifers, 10.77 per cent, and when fed to calves, 6.28 per cent. When whole oats were fed to cows, 12.06 per cent passed through them unmasticated; when fed to heifers, 5.48 per cent, and when fed to calves, 2.98 per cent. Whole corn and oats not masticated when fed to cows, 26.44 per cent; to heifers, 17.50 per cent, and calves 5.73 per cent. Chemical analysis showed practically the same composition of grain before feeding. Therefore it is safe to conclude that the animal derives no benefit from grain which passes through the digestive tract unmasticated. The results show two things: First, that feeding whole grain to cows and heifers is a very wasteful practice; second, that the younger animals are more capable of masticating their feed than older ones.

CAGE FOR DRYING MILK CANS

Proper Way to Purify Utensils is to Invert Them in Pure Air—Screened-in Room Best.

I believe the proper way to purify milk utensils is to invert them in pure air. For a long time our method was to turn the cans and pails over pens set in the ground outside the barn, says a writer in the Farm and Home. The chickens were always scratching up dirt about them and very often it was necessary to wash some of the utensils a second time.

Finally we built a screened-in room near the big door in the barn. The door was open most of the time, so the utensils got plenty of air. They were put on pegs inside of this room and cats and chickens were kept away from them entirely. I think some day we shall move this cage out of doors.

Separator Milk.

Separator milk is a good pig feed, but not a perfect pig feed by any means, and unless cornmeal and middlings or ground oats is fed in thick slop, pigs are liable to drink so much milk that fermentation takes place in their stomachs instead of normal digestion taking place, with the result that they bloat up and die. Don't put medicated salt in the drink of a pig. It may do to mix some in his meal, but the best way is to mix the salt with ashes and some charcoal and let the pig eat it at will.

Breed for fertility in your cows. Your heifers are your future cows. A dairy cow is not constructed to stand exposure.

Sugar beet pulp is a very good feed for milk cows.

The dairy cow should essentially be a large and rich milker.

The first and greatest law of breeding is "like begets like."

Comfortable shelter goes a long way towards making dairying pay.

Never offer a poor pound of butter for sale; rather, feed it to the pigs.

The Guernseys have always been noted for possessing a strong body.

The best time to feed rutabagas to dairy cows is immediately after milking.

The kicking cow is probably the most aggravating member of a herd.

Study and work to have your cows do their best, then do your part with the milk.

When a cow has been dry for some time be gentle with her when she freshens again.

The greatest aid in the prevention of souring and care of all dairy products is temperature.

The strong cow is one that will raise a calf every year and produce a large quantity of milk.

Keeping the cows comfortable is a neglected point in the management of the herd during the fall months.

The milk pail should be the main consideration, but not the sole one in judging the value of the dairy cow.

The strong cow can eat and digest large quantities of food, and this is essential for the production of big milk yields.

BOTTLE WITH A CREAM TAP

Device is Extremely Simple, Differing Only by Having Lateral Neck—Tube Worked Easily.

When unskimmed milk is delivered to the consumers in the usual type of bottle, the cream forms a layer floating on the milk, says the Scientific American. In pouring out the contents of the bottle they are necessarily more or less disturbed and mingled. To provide a bottle that shall be free from this defect is the purpose of recent patents here illustrated. The device is extremely simple, resembling in general outline the customary milk bottle, from which it differs by having a lateral neck formed about the point where the bottle reaches its largest diameter. Through this neck a curved tube of glass, paper or other suitable material is inserted, being free to slide in and out a certain distance, or to rotate about its axis. Both necks are closed with paper lids in the usual way. The operation of the device is so straightforward as to hardly require explanation. When it is desired to draw off the top layer of the cream the curved tube is turned with its inner end directed upward. If cream from a lower layer is required, the tube is turned accordingly. In transit, the tube is pushed in as far as it will go, to protect it against injury.

APPLYING LIME WITH DRILL

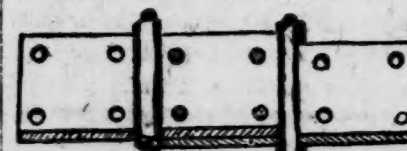

Success Made by Removing Rubber Pipes or Hose and Cast-Iron Boxes—Gauge Regulates.

Formerly my neighbors, as well as I, have had trouble with the lime clogging the rubber pipes or hose, and even the cast-iron boxes or cups to which the rubber hose is attached. So this year we removed the whole, rubber, cast-iron boxes or cups and all, and let the lime pour down in small open streams from each opening as the flat disks pushed it out of the fertilizer box. It is a perfect success, and the gauge can be set to spread from 500 to 900 pounds per acre. The lime drops right down around the hoes and is partly covered by them. Then we harrow the land crosswise, then drill in the wheat with 250 pounds of 14 per cent, acid phosphate per acre, put alike both on the four acres that have been limed and the four acres that have not been limed. The experiment costs little besides the $5.70 per ton that the lime costs, laid down at our station, and "I want to know, don't ye know," whether there is anything in lime for clay land like mine which is already quite rich from the glacial lime-deposits?

EASILY MADE SPRING HINGE

Where Double Door Is Desired Method Shown in Illustration Will Be of Value.

Where a spring hinge is desired for a double swing door, the method of putting two ordinary hinges together as shown in the illustration, will be of value. To make the upper and lower hinges two pairs of spring hinges are used, as employed for hanging screen doors, these are riveted together with the springs on opposite sides, or back to back, as illustrated. The rivets must be flush with the face of the middle section. The door can be mortised so that the middle section of hinges will set into same, as must be done with any double-swing spring hinge.

PLANT STAND FOR A WINDOW

One That Can Be Moved Easily is Always in Demand—Can Be Constructed by Handy Person.

A plant stand that can be moved easily is always in demand by who ever grows flowers. The accompanying design can be constructed by anyone handy with tools. It should be made in a substantial manner, for when weighted down with pots it will be subject to considerable strain when moved, and a flimsy framework would soon come apart and the stand collapse, plants and all.

Of course, such a stand can be made of any size to fit the window, writes Sylvanus Van Aken in the Orange-Judd Farmer. When one desires to make the room more attractive for a party it may be wheeled away and placed against the wall, the shelves facing the room. It will thus provide a bank of plants and flowers. Its portability is also a great advantage on cold nights, since it saves the labor of moving pots one by one, as is necessary where stationary plants or tables without casters are used.

In summer, when plants go out of doors, it may be set against the side of the house in a sheltered place, and it will be as useful as indoors.

The design illustrated herewith is two feet high, two feet from front to back, and three feet long at the back. The shelves are each eight inches wide and three inches deep. The top one is three feet long, the middle two and one-half feet long and the bottom two feet long. These shelves should be covered with a couple of inches of sand, in which the pots are to be plunged. If this sand is kept moist it will prevent unusual drying of the soil in the pots. The whole framework should be mounted on casters, preferably of iron, and braces should be placed at the back and across the bottom, as shown in the drawing.

CAUSE OF CHESTNUT BLIGHT

Withering of Trees Is Result of Boring by Insect Between Outer and Inner Bark.

Thomas Davy Candy of Langhorne, near Philadelphia, declares that he has discovered the cause of the blight which is withering chestnut trees in the middle and south Atlantic states. A boring beetle, one-sixteenth of an inch long, black in color, which lays its eggs between the outer and the inner bark, is the primary cause, he says. Grubs are hatched from the eggs, and these penetrate the soft inner bark, following its course around the tree trunk. Above the patch or the borer occurs the blighted appearance. Myriads of the tiny worms were found upon a single tree upon Mr. Candy's land, and the total result of their depredations was so extensive that the tree, he says, appears to have been scorched by fire. The blight has become so serious in Pennsylvania that the legislature appropriated $275,000 to a commission appointed by the governor to investigate the cause of the disease and to devise ways for exterminating it.

METHOD OF COLORING WOOD

Substantial Change in Color of Tissues Effected by Injection of Matter Into Trees.

Staining wood after it has been sawed, planed and converted into woodwork or furniture is a most ordinary procedure, but the staining of the wood while the tree it composes is alive and growing is a departure from old methods. The illustration shows a device by which coloring matter is injected into the tissues of the tree in such manner that it will be distributed by the natural circulation of the sap, thus effecting a substantial change in the color of the tissues with which it comes in contact.

Differing Terms for Coins. The language of money differs in different parts of the United States. On the Pacific coast the usual term for a quarter dollar is two bits. In the rural communities of New York and New England the people still talk of shillings, referring to the old colonial coin of twelve and a half cents.

CARD OF THANKS

In the following we are attempting only, to thank and express to you our sincere appreciation for the sympathy and kindness that has been shown us during the illness and death of my wife, and our mother, to each and everyone, who said or thought a kind word of her, we wish it were possible to thank them personally; especially, do we appreciate and thank Dr. Barrow and Dr. Kincaid in their every effort to have sent her back to us well and strong, the untiring energy of Miss McKan and Sister Mary Pius in administering to her every want and comfort; also to two of her old neighbors, Mrs. Ed Pace and Mrs. J. W. Spencer, of Lexington, Ky., who on account of circumstances were able to do for her things that we were not there to do—things they did for us—words are futile—their only reason for being so kind and generous was, "she had been kind to them," our only thought was "Cast thy bread upon the waters; for thou shalt find it after many days."

To Bro. Chandler and Bro. Robinson, we will always remain indebted for the beautiful and loving tribute they paid to her. To H. H. Hall, undertaker, we wish to thank him for the manner in which the funeral was conducted.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

Few Useful Hints.

Stains marred by medicines, and especially liniment marks, are among the most obstinate of removal and frequently tax amateur knowledge to the utmost. Iodine marks may, however, be successfully removed by means of liquid ammonia, a little of the spirit being poured into the saucer and the stained garment laid across it and the spot dabbed repeatedly with the fingers until it disappears. It should then be rinsed in tepid water and washed with strong soaps as in the usual manner.

I INVITE EVERY WOMAN

Every woman is invited to consult our Staff of Physicians, Surgeons and Specialists, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter at my expense—R.V. PIERCE, M.D.

There is every reason why women should not trust their delicate constitutions in the hands of unskilled persons. It requires a thorough medical education to appreciate and understand the female organism. There is every reason why she should write a specialist.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, fainting spells, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the distinctly feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past forty years and more.

The saloon is on the run. In those parts of the country where it has not yet struck its running gait it seems booked for an early start. The liquor men are in the position of that farmer who had driven a team of mules to town, and was persuaded to step into a penny arcade and, for the first time in his life, hear a phonograph play one of Sousa's marches. He put the hearing tubes to his ear, and listened. As the first notes of the full brass band came crashing on to his ear drums he dropped the tubes and started for the door, exclaiming, "Here comes the band, and I left them mules unhitched." The band is coming, and somebody has left the saloons unhitched.

The congregation of the Central Baptist church regrets the inability of its pastor, Rev. Geo. W. Shepherd, to fill the pulpit next Sabbath. Mr. Shepherd is still a great sufferer from rheumatism.

Washington St. Presbyterian Church

Rev. G. A. Joplin, Secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, represented Kentucky in a conference of the General Secretaries of the United States and Canada, which met in New Orleans.

Mr. Joplin will preach at the Washington Street Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. M. S. Browne Thursday afternoon. The treasurer reported a very satisfactory amount in the treasury. The regular exchange was not held Saturday, the ladies turning all their contributions over to the W. C. T. U. Exchange.

First Baptist Church

The Junior Mission Circle met February 13 to arrange for a social which will be given February 22 at 7:30 o'clock, in the church parlors. George Washington invitations are to be delivered to each member of the church, also friends outside. Upon entering the parlors each one must pay as many cents as the day of the month upon which his birthday falls.

Refreshments will be served, and souveniers will be given. Misses Garrett and Bush arrange the musical program, and Misses Frances Ogden, Dorothy Porter, Francis Pendleton, Helen Ford and all members will assist in the entertainment.

First Presbyterian Church

The Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon at last past two with Mrs. James Bolton. Topic: "Mexico and Cuba."

The pastor will have his Bible classes Friday afternoon and evening.

Owing to the indisposition of the pastor, the First Presbyterian church had the pleasure of hearing an able sermon from Rev. W. E. Hudson last Sunday. Mr. Hudson is the Superintendent of the Soul Winners' Work in the mountains of Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Georgia.

Rev. R. L. Walton gave a beautiful exposition of the story of the death and raising of Lazarus at the prayer meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. Cummings was in Lexington, Wednesday arranging for a meeting of Laymen Friday of next week in Lexington that the enthusiasm of the Missionary Convention at Chattanooga might be distributed somewhat among the Central Kentucky churches.

First Christian Church

At a called meeting of the C. W. B. M. of the Christian church Wednesday, plans were adopted for raising the annual pledge of the Society for Missions.

President Crossfield, of the College of the Bible, Lexington, will preach here next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The burden of his message will be the need of ministers, and he will urge the importance of the church constantly having young boys in preparation for the ministry. President Crossfield is an exceptionally eloquent speaker and the house should be crowded to hear him.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet next Tuesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock. The first program of the Social Service Committee, "The child at work," will be in charge of Mrs. W. H. Garner, the fourth vice-president.

Associated Charities

The officers of the Associated Charities are now located over the store of McCord & Phillips. Mr. Conkright was kind enough to move free of charge.

Eye Strain.

Of all the misfortunes that could befall a human being, the loss of sight is probably the greatest, and yet the organ of the body is so constantly abused as the eye. The trouble is that the possessor of the normal eye does not take into consideration that in all near work, as in reading, writing, sewing, etc., the eye is constantly engaged as well as the hand, and that the eye only is at rest when looking into space or when closed.

Joke on Composer.

Signor Leoncavallo once had a rather amusing experience. Being in a strange town where "I Pagliaccio" was being given, he attended the performance to see how it was rendered, and falling into conversation with his neighbor, proceeded, by way of a joke, to criticize the work unmercifully. Next morning he found in the local newspaper a long article reproducing at his statements and headed "Leoncavallo's opinion of 'Pagliaccio'."

Those Undesired Wrinkles.
An habitual expression of inquiry is to blame for permanent lines across the forehead. Then there is another muscle whose office is to draw down the eyebrows. It does its piece of work—and what we speak of is a frown. The permanency of this expression is not in keeping with a happy nature, and is one of the least desired lines.

Most Annoying.
"It's fearfully annoying to lose all your money on a get-rich-quick scheme," said Mr. Silliwad. "Yes," replied Mr. Lambkin. "Such a disappointment to find the most enticing propositions coming along after you have wasted all your available coin on a back-number prospectus."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 16, 1912.

To the Editor of The News:—

I noticed in your issue of February 14 an editorial on the candidates of the Democratic party for the Presidential nomination, in which you take the position that Uncle Jud Harmon, of Ohio, has metaphorically "torn his trousers" in getting over the initiative-and referendum barbed wire fence before the Ohio Constitutional Convention. I do not believe Uncle Jud has hurt himself nearly as much as you seem to think.

In the first place Ohio cities and villages already have the initiative and referendum, so far as it relates to matters in which their welfare is concerned. Many of us who do favor the initiative and referendum differ on the details of the proposition. Some of us do not want the thing lightly used, nor small percentages of voters allowed to force expensive elections that will be fruitless upon the taxpayers, and that is exactly Uncle Jud's attitude. He wants the thing tried out in the cities and villages before it is made a state-wide institution. I think he is right about it and I am for the initiative and referendum. I am an Ohioan and I think that if ever a state needed the initiative and referendum Ohio does. But Uncle Jud has been at the capitol as Governor for more than three years and he ought to know what's what at Columbus and I believe he does know.

One thing Judson Harmon has done as Governor of Ohio: He has cut down the taxes the people have to pay. He has put the burden of taxation on the big corporations which have been the chief offenders in tax-dodging for years. He has more than doubled and in some cases trebled the tax assessments of the big railroad corporations which the press bureaus of Woodrow Wilson charge him with being in league with. He has fixed it so that, no difference how extravagant state administrations may become or county administrations or city administrations they may not tax the people more than one per cent on the assessed valuation of their property. How Kentucky would blossom as the rose if its total taxes were held down to one per cent of the valuation!

Besides that Uncle Jud is being opposed by John R. McLean, the reactionary owner of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and William Absorandolph Hearst, of the New York American, and about nine other papers, who are as thick as thieves in politics and business. The opposition of McLean is one of the best endorsements Uncle Jud could have. His newspaper, which used to run one column in particular so indecent as to bar it from many homes in Ohio, has been the Pharisee of Ohio Democratic politics. No big leader of the party who would not bow the knee to McLean but got the axe at the hands of the Enquirer. He has been such a party traitor and the Enquirer has been such a party Benedict Arnold that when McLean ran for Governor in 1899 he was defeated by an enormous majority because 75,000 to 100,000 self-respecting Democrats refused to vote for him, though he must have received at least 50,000 Republican votes.

Judson Harmon is a square man. If you don't believe it ask the 75,000 Republican farmers who helped to elect him in 1908, when Taft carried the state by 69,000, giving Harmon a plurality of 19,000 and whose support was responsible for that 100,377 majority in 1910. He has been the first Governor Ohio has had since I can remember who got progressive measures through the Legislature and he had to fight a bunch of crooked Democrats and Republicans to get some of his bills through and some of them in both parties were indicted on the charge of plain boodling.

Judson Harmon is the man who said "guilt is personal," when he pointed out the futility of attempting to fine corporations rather than imprisoning their law-breaking officals. He has fought the tariff as an unfair institution, and has not asked for any pension from friends accumulated through the protection of such a tariff. If Woodrow Wilson is nominated we shall have to defend that pension statute of his all through the campaign. If we nominate Harmon we can elect him, in my opinion, as Cleveland was elected, through the kind of opposition given him in his own party. for the praise of some men is a knock and every knock from them is a boost. And in Ohio one of those men is John R. McLean.

Respectfully yours
J. SHERMAN PORTER.
